1. What is the significance of the AKA "AKAdemy"?

- A. A program for community service
- B. A program designed for personal and professional development
- C. A financial assistance program for members
- D. A scholarship program for students

The significance of the AKA "AKAdemy" lies in its role as a program designed specifically for personal and professional development. This initiative reflects Alpha Kappa Alpha's commitment to enhancing the skills, knowledge, and competencies of its members. Through the AKAdemy, participants engage in various training sessions, workshops, and resources that foster growth in leadership, career advancement, and personal enrichment. This focus on development is vital for members as it prepares them to take on more significant roles within the sorority and their communities, aligning with the organization's overarching goals of service and empowerment. By investing in personal and professional growth, AKA members can better serve their communities and uphold the values of the organization.

2. How many incorporators of Alpha Kappa Alpha are there?

- A. Five
- B. Six
- C. Seven
- D. Eight

The correct response is significant because Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated was established by a distinct group of individuals who played key roles in the founding of the organization. There are six incorporators credited with the establishment of Alpha Kappa Alpha in 1908, and they are vital to the history and legacy of the sorority. Their combined vision and efforts created a platform for future members to uphold the values and mission of the organization. Understanding the number of incorporators is crucial as it not only highlights the founding members' contributions but also underscores the nurturing of sisterhood and service that continues to define Alpha Kappa Alpha today.

3. When are amendments to the Bylaws of Alpha Kappa Alpha expected to be circulated to chapters?

- A. By June 1st each year
- B. No later than April 30th preceding Boule
- C. In the first week of each month
- D. At least two months before each election

The correct timing for circulating amendments to the Bylaws of Alpha Kappa Alpha is no later than April 30th preceding Boule. This timeline ensures that all chapters receive the necessary information in a timely manner to familiarize themselves with any proposed changes before the Boule convenes. This practice underscores the organization's commitment to transparency and thorough review, allowing chapters ample opportunity to discuss and consider the amendments before they are finalized or voted on during the Boule. This approach is fundamental in maintaining organizational integrity and ensuring that all members are engaged in governance processes. Adhering to this deadline helps to align the chapter discussions and decision-making with the official electoral timelines of the organization.

4. How are chapter program activities determined within Alpha Kappa Alpha?

- A. By the local chapter leaders
- B. By the Supreme Basileus' administration initiatives
- C. By voting of all members
- D. By external committee reviews

The determination of chapter program activities within Alpha Kappa Alpha is primarily guided by the initiatives established by the Supreme Basileus' administration. This approach ensures that there is a cohesive and unified direction to the programs and activities aligned with the organization's goals and mission. The Supreme Basileus, as the leader of the sorority, sets strategic priorities which local chapters are encouraged to adopt or adapt in their programming. This structure allows for consistency in the organization's efforts while still enabling local chapters to tailor activities to their community needs. While local chapter leaders and members may play significant roles in the execution and adaptation of programs, the overarching framework and priorities originate from the higher administration. This process helps in maintaining the integrity and unity of Alpha Kappa Alpha's outreach and service initiatives across different chapters, ensuring that they align with the sorority's established objectives.

5. What is an essential quality for applicants seeking membership in Alpha Kappa Alpha?

- A. A background in political science
- B. A strong commitment to community service and social responsibility
- C. An academic record of excellence
- D. A history of leadership positions

A strong commitment to community service and social responsibility is an essential quality for applicants seeking membership in Alpha Kappa Alpha. This organization prioritizes the importance of giving back to the community and promoting social justice. Applicants are expected to demonstrate their dedication to service, reflecting the sorority's foundational goals of uplifting underserved communities and advocating for societal change. Membership in Alpha Kappa Alpha is not just about academic achievement or leadership roles; it significantly emphasizes the impact individuals can have on their communities. While a background in political science, an academic record of excellence, and a history of leadership positions may be valuable attributes, they do not capture the core mission of the sorority as effectively as community service and social responsibility do. The essence of Alpha Kappa Alpha's mission is about service and fostering a spirit of helping others, which aligns directly with the organization's values and traditions.

6. Which individuals inspired Ethel Hedgemon Lyle in her mission to establish Alpha Kappa Alpha?

- A. Ethel Tremain Robinson and Elizabeth Appa Cook
- B. Anna Easter Brown and Beulah Burke
- C. Nellie May Quander and Lavania Norman
- D. Margaret Flagg Holmes and Lucy Diggs Slowe

Ethel Hedgemon Lyle was influenced significantly by both Ethel Tremain Robinson and Elizabeth Appa Cook in her quest to establish Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated. These individuals were not only peers but also exemplified the values of leadership, sisterhood, and community service that were vital to the foundation of the sorority. Their commitment to education and the upliftment of African-American women provided Ethel with the encouragement and inspiration needed to pursue her vision. Furthermore, Ethel Tremain Robinson's leadership qualities and Elizabeth Appa Cook's dedication to the advancement of women in society deeply resonated with Lyle's own goals. The bonding experiences and collaborative efforts amongst these women reinforced the idea that a supportive network was essential for fostering personal growth and community service, which became core tenets of Alpha Kappa Alpha. In contrast, while the other individuals listed have played significant roles in the history of Alpha Kappa Alpha and within the African-American community, they were not the primary inspirations for Ethel Hedgemon Lyle specifically.

7. Which initiative is NOT part of Danette Anthony Reed's 2022-2024 Administration initiatives?

- A. Strengthen Our Sisterhood
- B. Promote International Relations
- C. Empower Our Families
- D. Advocate For Social Justice

In the context of Danette Anthony Reed's 2022-2024 Administration initiatives, "Promote International Relations" is not one of the strategies emphasized during her tenure. The focus of her administration is primarily on initiatives that foster community and civic engagement, strengthen bonds among members, and advocate for social justice issues. "Strengthen Our Sisterhood," "Empower Our Families," and "Advocate For Social Justice" are all aligned with the mission of Alpha Kappa Alpha to enhance the leadership and service within the community. These initiatives reflect a commitment to developing supportive networks among sisters, empowering families through holistic programs, and advocating for social justice, which resonates with the organization's historical mission. The emphasis on local and regional efforts in sisterhood, family empowerment, and social advocacy highlights the administration's vision to impact primarily at a community level rather than focusing on international relations, which indicates why "Promote International Relations" is the correct distinction in this scenario.

8. Which manual documents the structure of the Soror Code of Ethics?

- A. Code of Conduct Manual
- B. Official Protocol Manual
- C. Constitutional Guidelines
- D. Governance and Operations Manual

The Official Protocol Manual is the document that outlines the structure of the Soror Code of Ethics in Alpha Kappa Alpha. This manual serves to guide members in understanding the ethical standards and behaviors expected within the sorority. By defining the protocols that govern interactions and organizational practices, the Official Protocol Manual establishes a framework for maintaining integrity and accountability among members. This manual is crucial as it not only details the principles of ethical conduct but also reinforces the values and mission of Alpha Kappa Alpha. An understanding of these protocols is vital for fostering a respectful and supportive environment within the organization. While other manuals like the Code of Conduct Manual, Constitutional Guidelines, and Governance and Operations Manual have their distinct purposes, they do not specifically focus on the Soror Code of Ethics to the extent the Official Protocol Manual does. Therefore, the selection of the Official Protocol Manual as the answer reflects its role in explicitly detailing the expected ethical standards and behaviors for sorors.

9. Which state is NOT part of the South Atlantic region?

- A. Florida
- B. Georgia
- C. Alabama
- D. North Carolina

The correct answer indicates that North Carolina is not part of the South Atlantic region, which is a notable distinction in the context of U.S. geography. The South Atlantic region typically comprises states like Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, and others directly connected to the southeastern coast. While North Carolina shares some geographical similarities with states considered part of the South, it is classified as part of the broader Southeastern United States. The South Atlantic region primarily identifies the coastal and lowland areas, focusing on economic, cultural, and historical connections among these states. Recognizing the delineation of regions can clarify why North Carolina, with its unique attributes and location, is categorized differently in this case. This also illustrates the importance of understanding regional classifications when analyzing geography in relation to cultural and social contexts.

10. What is the title of the chief administrator in the Corporate Office of Alpha Kappa Alpha?

A. Executive Director

B. Supreme Basileus

C. First Supreme Anti-Basileus

D. Regional Director

The title of the chief administrator in the Corporate Office of Alpha Kappa Alpha is "Executive Director." This role encompasses overseeing the daily operations of the sorority's headquarters, managing administrative functions, and ensuring effective implementation of the organization's strategic goals and policies. The Executive Director plays a crucial role in facilitating communication and coordination among various levels of the organization, as well as with external stakeholders. Other options, while important positions within the sorority, do not specifically refer to the chief administrator role. The Supreme Basileus serves as the sorority's president and leads the organization at the highest level, while the First Supreme Anti-Basileus is a key officer supporting the president. The Regional Director is responsible for oversight of specific geographic areas but does not hold the title related to the chief administrative responsibilities of the Corporate Office.
