How to Use This Guide

This guide is designed to help you study more effectively and approach your exam with confidence. Whether you're reviewing for the first time or doing a final refresh, here's how to get the most out of your Examzify study guide:

1. Start with a Diagnostic Review

Skim through the questions to get a sense of what you know and what you need to focus on. Your goal is to identify knowledge gaps early.

2. Study in Short, Focused Sessions

Break your study time into manageable blocks (e.g. 30 – 45 minutes). Review a handful of questions, reflect on the explanations.

3. Learn from the Explanations

After answering a question, always read the explanation, even if you got it right. It reinforces key points, corrects misunderstandings, and teaches subtle distinctions between similar answers.

4. Track Your Progress

Use bookmarks or notes (if reading digitally) to mark difficult questions. Revisit these regularly and track improvements over time.

5. Simulate the Real Exam

Once you're comfortable, try taking a full set of questions without pausing. Set a timer and simulate test-day conditions to build confidence and time management skills.

6. Repeat and Review

Don't just study once, repetition builds retention. Re-attempt questions after a few days and revisit explanations to reinforce learning. Pair this guide with other Examzify tools like flashcards, and digital practice tests to strengthen your preparation across formats.

Explanations

SAMPLE

1. In which year was Bo Jackson honored for the 40th anniversary of his Heisman at the Iron Bowl?

- A. 2023
- B. 2024
- C. 2025
- D. 2026

The event is testing your ability to map anniversaries to the original year. Bo Jackson won the Heisman in 1985, so the 40th anniversary would occur 40 years later: $1985 + 40 = 2025$. That's why 2025 is the correct year for honoring the 40th anniversary of his Heisman at the Iron Bowl. The other years correspond to earlier or later anniversaries (38th in 2023, 39th in 2024, 41st in 2026).

2. How should you handle a disruptive guest without escalating the situation?

- A. Acknowledge, set boundaries calmly, use a private location if needed, and involve a supervisor if the behavior persists.
- B. Confront the guest loudly in front of others.
- C. Have the group leave immediately without warning.
- D. Ignore the situation and continue the tour.

Handling disruptive guests comes down to de-escalation and keeping the group safe and on track. The best approach is to acknowledge the guest's feelings, set clear boundaries calmly, move to a private location if needed, and involve a supervisor if the behavior continues. Acknowledging the situation helps reduce defensiveness, while calm, firm boundaries prevent the disruption from spiraling. Taking the conversation to a quieter space minimizes embarrassment and shows you're in control, and bringing in a supervisor provides support and ensures the response follows policy. Confronting loudly in front of others tends to heighten tension and provoke a bigger scene. Making the entire group leave immediately without warning can feel punitive and may compromise safety or logistics. Ignoring the situation leaves everyone at risk and fails to address the behavior, creating more problems down the line.

3. Which statement accurately identifies Golesh's prior head-coaching tenure before Auburn?

- A. University of Central Florida, 2019-2021
- B. University of South Florida, 2023-2025
- C. University of South Florida, 2021-2023
- D. University of South Florida, 2022-2024

The key idea here is tracking a coach's actual head coaching roles and when they happened relative to a new job. Golesh's head coaching experience prior to taking the Auburn position was with the University of South Florida. He led USF as head coach starting in 2023 and continuing through 2025, which is the tenure people refer to when describing his coaching background before moving to Auburn. The other options would assign him to different schools or different timeframes that don't match his documented head coaching history, so the USF tenure from 2023 to 2025 best fits the question.

4. How far is the furthest seat from the court in Neville Arena?

- A. 60 feet
- B. 43 feet
- C. 25 feet
- D. 100 feet

Think about how far a seat is from the playing surface by measuring a straight line from the edge of the court to the furthest seat. In Neville Arena, the layout puts the most distant seats about 43 feet away. That distance sits in the expected range for an upper-tier seat without being unrealistically long for the arena's size. The other options would place you much closer to the court (25 feet) or far beyond what the arena's dimensions would allow (60 or 100 feet). So 43 feet is the best match for the furthest-seat distance.

5. Which activity best supports reducing downtime during a tour?

- A. Ramp up pacing by reducing breaks
- B. Extend downtime
- C. Plan rests and transitions between stops
- D. Skip important stops

Proactively scheduling rests and transitions between stops keeps the tour moving smoothly. Downtime shows up as those gaps where nothing productive happens—loading and unloading, waiting for the next activity, or participants losing momentum. By planning rests and clear transitions, you create predictable moments for energy recovery and precise handoffs, so everyone knows where to be and when. That coordination reduces unplanned waiting, helps maintain on-time departures, and makes the experience feel organized rather than chaotic. Pushing to shorten breaks or squeezing in more activity without built-in transitions tends to build fatigue and cause delays later, while simply extending downtime adds idle time without solving the underlying flow issues. Skipping important stops undermines the schedule and the tour's value, often leading to more confusion and rushed moments. So, planning rests and transitions is the best way to minimize downtime and keep the tour efficient and enjoyable.

6. Which statement is true about the south end zone video board?

- A. It is 7,238 square feet of LED space
- B. It is 9,800 square feet
- C. It is 10,690 square feet
- D. It is 12,500 square feet

The main idea here is recognizing a fixed specification. The south end zone video board has a specific, published size that describes how much LED space it has. When you're choosing the true statement, you're looking for the option that matches that official measurement. Among the choices, the statement that aligns with the board's documented size is the true one. The other figures describe different sizes that don't match the actual specification, so they don't fit. Knowing the exact size helps explain how big the display appears from the stands and how much detail and clarity the graphics can show. That fixed measurement is what makes the correct choice stand out.

7. Which URL should be used to access VIP experiences?

- A. AuburnTigers.com/season-tickets
- B. AuburnTigers.com/visit
- C. AuburnTigers.com/tickets/vip
- D. AuburnTigers.com/VIP

Access to VIP experiences is best achieved by the most direct page path on the site. AuburnTigers.com/VIP points straight to the VIP section, making it the quickest route to the information you want without navigating through broader areas. The other URLs lead to general areas like season tickets, campus visits, or a different structure that may not specifically correspond to VIP experiences, which means extra clicks or uncertain routing. So, using AuburnTigers.com/VIP is the clearest, most direct way to access VIP experiences.

8. What are the benefits of the WarEagle+ subscription?

- A. Free parking passes
- B. Early access to ticket sales
- C. Discounted concessions pricing
- D. Discounted concessions pricing and Unspoken 2010 docuseries about the 2010 national championship

WarEagle+ is designed to deliver value through both savings and exclusive content. The best choice combines a money-saving perk with access to exclusive material: discounted concessions pricing plus the Unspoken 2010 docuseries about the 2010 national championship. This shows the subscription adds tangible benefits at events and unique content you can't get otherwise. The other options point to a single perk or a perk that isn't part of the plan, so they don't represent the full benefit package.

9. What is the Run With the Team experience?

- A. A post-game autograph session with players.
- B. A VIP experience you can purchase that lets you run out of the tunnel behind the team.
- C. A halftime show package for fans.
- D. A stadium tour package.

Run With the Team is a VIP fan package you can buy that lets you join the team as they run out of the tunnel before a game. It gives you a pregame, behind-the-scenes moment and a photo opportunity, placing you in the ritual of the team's entrance. This is a pregame experience, not something that happens after the game, during halftime, or as a general stadium tour. So the essence is stepping onto the field with the team for that opening moment, rather than autographs, performances at halftime, or a tour.

10. Which street do players walk down for the Tiger Walk?

- A. North Donahue Drive.
- B. South Donahue Drive.
- C. Auburn Avenue.
- D. Mitchell Street.

Tiger Walk is Auburn's pregame tradition where players walk from the athletics complex toward Jordan-Hare Stadium with fans lining the route. The walk follows South Donahue Drive, making that street the correct path for the Tiger Walk. The other streets are not used for this tradition—they're simply parts of campus geography that don't serve as the Tiger Walk route.
