How to Use This Guide

This guide is designed to help you study more effectively and approach your exam with confidence. Whether you're reviewing for the first time or doing a final refresh, here's how to get the most out of your Examzify study guide:

1. Start with a Diagnostic Review

Skim through the questions to get a sense of what you know and what you need to focus on. Your goal is to identify knowledge gaps early.

2. Study in Short, Focused Sessions

Break your study time into manageable blocks (e.g. 30 - 45 minutes). Review a handful of questions, reflect on the explanations.

3. Learn from the Explanations

After answering a question, always read the explanation, even if you got it right. It reinforces key points, corrects misunderstandings, and teaches subtle distinctions between similar answers.

4. Track Your Progress

Use bookmarks or notes (if reading digitally) to mark difficult questions. Revisit these regularly and track improvements over time.

5. Simulate the Real Exam

Once you're comfortable, try taking a full set of questions without pausing. Set a timer and simulate test-day conditions to build confidence and time management skills.

6. Repeat and Review

Don't just study once, repetition builds retention. Re-attempt questions after a few days and revisit explanations to reinforce learning. Pair this guide with other Examzify tools like flashcards, and digital practice tests to strengthen your preparation across formats.

There's no single right way to study, but consistent, thoughtful effort always wins. Use this guide flexibly, adapt the tips above to fit your pace and learning style. You've got this!

Explanations

SAMPLE

1. During adult CPR, how many rescue breaths follow the compressions when performed by a single rescuer?

- A. 4 breaths
- B. 3 breaths
- C. 1 breath
- D. 2 breaths

In adult CPR for a single rescuer, the standard cycle is 30 chest compressions followed by 2 rescue breaths, then repeat. This pattern balances providing ventilation with maintaining ongoing chest compressions to sustain blood flow. Two breaths are enough to ventilate without creating a long interruption; one breath would under-ventilate, and three or four breaths would pause compressions longer and increase the risk of gastric inflation and decreased perfusion. After delivering the two breaths, resume compressions immediately and continue the cycle.

2. The gang associated with the number 13 and devil horns is which?

- A. Bloods
- B. Crips
- C. MS13
- D. Latin Kings

In gang identification, numbers and hand signs point to affiliations. The number 13 signals allegiance to the Mexican Mafia, a tie that helps identify certain Sureño groups. Mara Salvatrucha, known as MS-13, directly incorporates 13 in its name to reflect that influence, and it is commonly associated with aggressive, intimidating symbols and gestures. So when you see the combination of the number 13 and a menacing hand sign, the gang most closely linked to both is MS-13. The other options are associated with different cues—Bloods with red, Crips with blue, Latin Kings with a crown symbol—so they don't fit this specific pairing.

3. What does ACES stand for?

- A. Adverse Childhood Experiences
- B. American Child Education System
- C. Acute Cardiac Exercise System
- D. Automated Childhood Evaluation Service

ACES refers to Adverse Childhood Experiences. This term comes from the ACEs study, a public health framework that identifies how early life trauma—such as abuse, neglect, and household dysfunction—can influence health, behavior, and social outcomes later in life. Each category of adversity counts toward a cumulative score, and higher scores are linked to greater risk for issues like chronic illness, mental health challenges, substance use, and problematic behavior. In law enforcement and first-responder training, recognizing that someone's current behavior or stress reactions may be rooted in early trauma supports a trauma-informed approach, reducing re-traumatization and guiding safer, more compassionate interactions. The other options do not reflect a widely recognized acronym for this concept in public health or policing contexts.

4. Which vascular structure carries oxygenated blood away from the heart?

- A. Veins
- B. Capillaries
- C. Pulmonary Artery
- D. Arteries

Arteries are the vessels that carry blood away from the heart. In the systemic circulation, the blood leaving the heart through the arteries is oxygen-rich as it travels to tissues, making arteries the vessel type most closely associated with transporting oxygenated blood outward. Veins bring blood back to the heart, and capillaries are where gas exchange occurs. A helpful caveat is that the pulmonary artery also carries blood away from the heart, but it transports deoxygenated blood to the lungs. The general pattern the question relies on is the direction of flow and the typical oxygenation of arterial blood in the systemic circuit, which points to arteries as the best answer.

5. Which statement best describes a Forum?

- A. An online discussion thread
- B. Location where speech is occurring
- C. A legislative assembly
- D. A courtroom

A forum is the place where speech and discussion take place. The statement that describes a forum as the location where speech is occurring best captures this idea, since a forum is fundamentally the venue or setting for public discourse. While online forums exist, the core concept here is the physical or designated space for expression, not a specific institution or a particular type of communication channel. A legislative assembly and a courtroom are specific settings with defined roles, but they don't define the general notion of a forum. So the best description is the location where speech is occurring.

6. What is the motto of Folk Nation?

- A. All is well
- B. All is one
- C. Life, Love, and Loyalty
- D. United We Stand

Folk Nation emphasizes unity among its members, so its motto is "All is one." This phrase expresses that every member is part of a single, connected group and that what one person does reflects on the whole. Strength comes from solidarity, and loyalty binds the members together. Other phrases like "All is well," "United We Stand," or "Life, Love, and Loyalty" aren't the recognized slogan used to convey this same collective identity for Folk Nation, making "All is one" the best fit.

7. Which of the following is NOT listed as a method of attack (terrorism)?

- A. Cyberterrorism
- B. Chemical
- C. Biological (produces illness)
- D. Radiological/Nuclear terrorism

Traditional attack methods in this framework are chemical, biological, and radiological/nuclear. Cyberterrorism belongs to the cyber domain and targets information systems rather than direct physical dispersion of agents, so it's not listed among those physical attack categories. That's why it's the correct choice. The other options are classic weaponized categories: chemical agents designed to harm, biological agents that cause illness, and radiological/nuclear devices that release harmful radiation.

8. Under the Good Samaritan protection, an individual is protected unless they are _____.

- A. Negligent
- B. Reckless Behavior
- C. Grossly Negligent
- D. Criminal Negligent

Good Samaritan protection shields well-intentioned helpers from civil liability for ordinary negligence when they act in good faith and without compensation. The protection is lifted, however, when the helper's conduct is grossly negligent—meaning a severe failure to exercise ordinary care that shows a reckless disregard for the safety of the person being aided. In that scenario, immunity does not apply and liability could attach. This makes gross negligence the threshold that defeats the protection, explaining why the correct answer is “grossly negligent.”

9. Which group is often motivated by a mix of ideologies and personal grievances?

- A. International terrorists
- B. Political extremists
- C. Radical activists
- D. Domestic violent extremists

Domestic violent extremists are individuals or small groups operating within a country who act out of a mix of personal grievances and ideological aims. Their violence is often fueled not just by a single belief, but by personal frustrations, perceived injustices, or identity threats that mingle with political, racial, or ideological motivations. This blend helps explain why they might act violently to “send a message” or advance goals that feel personally important to them, in addition to broader ideological objectives. International terrorists typically pursue transnational causes and are driven by broader ideologies or objectives that extend beyond their own country, rather than primarily by personal grievances. Political extremists focus mainly on extreme political aims driven by ideology, not necessarily by personal grievance. Radical activists pursue dramatic political change through activism and may or may not resort to violence, but the distinctive pattern described here—personal grievances fused with in-country, ideologically charged aims—best characterizes domestic violent extremists.

10. Which city is most associated with the origin of both the Folk Nation and People Nation alliances?

A. Chicago

B. New York

C. Los Angeles

D. Houston

Originating in Chicago's prison system, these alliances were formed in the late 1960s and early 1970s as rival groups sought structure, protection, and coordination across facilities. The Chicago area gave rise to both Folk Nation and People Nation, making the city the birthplace of these two coalitions. From there, members moved between prisons and neighborhoods, spreading the associations, but their roots remain tied to Chicago. The other cities listed did not originate these alliances; they adopted or aligned with them later through transfers and broader gang networks.
